

Apostrophes

Our grammar this week is focusing on apostrophes. Apostrophes for possession: the cat's whiskers (one cat); the cats' whiskers (several cats); the children's coats (the coats belonging to the children) and apostrophes for contraction: you can't do that (cannot); he'll be happy about that (he will); I could've told you that (could have). Look out for as many different examples of apostrophes as possible in your reading and write them here.
